

The 25th SSBP International Research Symposium

Research Symposium 14th – 15th September 2023 • Virtual Conference

Expanding a Global Perspective on Behavioural Phenotypes

The Society for the Study of Behavioural Phenotypes will be holding their 25th International Research Symposium, and second virtual symposium, on the 14th and 15th September 2023. The theme will be: Expanding a Global Perspective on Behavioural Phenotypes. This is a general conference, with submissions invited on any aspect of behavioural phenotype research.

Join us from around the world as we come together with live discussion sessions for all timezones. Generous registration discounts for students and for researchers from Low and Middle Income Countries are available.

Abstract submission opens: 1st April

Registration opens: 1st May

Deadline for online abstract submission: 31st May

Deadline for earlybird discounted registration: 18th August

For further information see www.ssbp.org.uk

The SSBP is a charity registered in England (No. 1013849).

The 25th SSBP International Research Symposium

Research Symposium 14th – 15th September 2023 • Virtual Conference